The Rev. Lance Henderson—Pastor
Brent Holcomb—Organist/Choirmaster
Melodie Capole—Handbell Director

Grace and Peace to you from God our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ!

There is an old joke about pastors—“the riskiest question you can ask your pastor is this, ‘Pastor, can you say a few words about....’” One thing that many, many pastors share is the absolute joy we have listening to the sounds of our own voices. And so the humor of the joke is that just about every pastor I know (including me) is more likely to say 1000 words than “just a few”. The amazing thing is that the topic does not even have to be one we particularly know a whole lot about! Give 15 minutes of your attention on Sunday mornings to a man* who talks about God and the scriptures, suddenly he imagines people want to hear from him on many things anytime. But the jig was up; it had to end. And so COVID-19 has claimed another victim—the self-delusion that my so-thought wise, important and plentiful words were beneficial.

I say this only because, for over a month now, about the only words I think or say seem to be “I don’t know.” I suppose the good thing might be that they are honest words. I really do not know. I suppose I got lucky last month when I predicted that the first part of 2021 was going to be a whole lot like most of 2020. Little did I know that we were headed to another worship shut down.

If your main contact with the goings-on of Our Saviour Lutheran Church is The Grapevine, you may not know that we have stopped in-person worship until February 28. And really, that is the earliest date. Council will re-evaluate at our mid-February meeting whether we will resume on the 28th or extend it later into the spring. And just as mysterious as infection rates, vaccination supplies, truthfulness in media and everything else are, the goings-on at OSLC for the Lenten season are every bit a mystery.

- Are we having Lenten Services? I don't know.
- What about Holy Week? I don't know.
- Surely something for Ash Wednesday, right? Yeah, probably. I don't know what.
- What's this mean for our fellowship groups? I don't know.
- How long are you going to go with this list of examples, Pastor? I don't know.

I think you're getting the point by now.

Despite the seemingly negative tone of this article, I'm not without hope. Viruses come and go. Vaccines get distributed and they don't. Political parties trade power like a kindergarten trades the common cold. And, yet, we know that Hebrews 3:18 tells us "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever." It's something to really mull over in our world today. What exactly should you take from that? I don't know. But I sounds awfully important for me to hear, too.

Peace in Christ,
Pastor Lance

COMMEMORATION PROFILES

Ruth Nicholson

The Lutheran Church, as part of its worship, celebrates the lives of notable Christians of the past. Our hymnal provides a calendar (pp. 15–17) for us to follow which recognizes these individuals on the anniversary of their deaths.

February 3

Ansgar, Archbishop of Hamburg,
Missionary to Denmark and Sweden
(801-865)

Ansgar was born near Amiens, France. After his mother's early death, he was sent to join a monastery. In his subsequent life as a monk, Ansgar became the first Christian missionary to Scandinavia. His appointment as an archbishop gave him much-needed funding and a base of operations for his difficult work. Just before his death, Ansgar asked his friends not to abandon the mission to Nordic countries, but two centuries passed before Christianity was able to gain ground there. Today's Swedish Lutherans, in particular, hold Ansgar in high regard.

February 14

Cyril, monk (826-869) and
Methodius, bishop (c. 815-885),
Missionaries to the Slavs

Cyril and Methodius were brothers from a noble family in Greece. In 860, Cyril resigned a job in Constantinople to join his brother on missionary trips to the Khazars and Bulgarians. Two years later, Emperor Michael the Third sent them to Moravia to preach the Gospel. Instead of using the Latin liturgy, these brothers used the Slavonic vernacular, now called Old Church Slavonic. In addition, they developed a new alphabet in order to translate the Bible into the local language. Cyril's and Methodius's work had a sacred dimension, as they spread Christianity, and a secular one, as their linguistic contributions were valuable for the beginnings of Slavic literature.

February 18
Martin Luther,
Renewer of the church
(1483-1546)

Founder of the Protestant Reformation, Martin Luther formulated a new understanding of humanity's relationship with God. He recognized Jesus as the only mediator between mankind and God; he identified grace as the key element in forgiveness and salvation; and for him, word and sacrament were the key components of worship. Luther's translation of the Bible from churchly Latin into everyday German was a tremendous gift to Christianity and culture in Germany. His catechisms, tracts, letters, sermons and hymns remain powerful sources of education and inspiration for Christians around the world today.
