Grace and Peace to you from God our Father and our Risen Lord Jesus Christ!

As I write this newsletter article, Easter has not yet quite arrived. Nor Good Friday. Nor Maundy Thursday. Not even Palm Sunday. So it runs the danger of being outdated quickly. We will see.

The big news around here is that ON Palm Sunday, we return to in-person worship after over a two month hiatus. It feels like we are moving back towards normalcy, but we are obviously not there yet. Though we will gather and worship together, COVID protocols will still be in place (see back cover). So while we still will not be operating in a way that most of us would consider “normal”, we will perhaps be “normal-er”.

In my opinion, the only thing I can compare the COVID crisis to is 9/11. After 9/11, the expression “9/11 changed everything” was often proclaimed. It was true. But the new norms that came into place post-9/11 have been with us so long that they do not feel new. Nor is it easy to remember what norms left us and never came back. So it will be with a post-COVID world. Things will change—some without our noticing and some will change so greatly and be forever difficult to accept.

I expect online church will be one of those things. Our sacramental theology will not allow us to become 100% online. Baptisms by definition require real water and a real gathering of the community of believers. Bread and wine becoming the body and blood of Christ happens as that community gathers—consecration of the elements does not happen by magic. Miraculous? Yes. Mysterious? Yes. But COMMUNION does not happen among 75 people watching their respective computer springs—each holding some beverage and favorite bread-like product. Just think about the very word itself—COMMUNION.

2021 COMMUNITY PROJECT

The Lydia Circle is responsible for offering a congregational outreach service project for 2021. Due to the devastation that Covid-19 has caused for many in our own community, we have chosen to support God's Helping Hands to offer support for those in dire need of assistance due to lost jobs. Many have been terminated from their employment or had to terminate their employment to remain home with children not going to school. There is especially a need for assistance with rent/housing payments to help prevent possible eviction. Lydia is collecting monetary contributions for "Project Rent" to assist our area families. If you know of someone in particular that needs immediate help, please contact Marie Lybrand at 803-397-0503. We are also reaching out to Thrivent to request their $250 gift contribution.

God's Helping Hands has also informed us that they are in need of new or gently used blankets. In-person services will begin again on March 28. There will be a box in the Narthex for your blanket donations. A monetary contribution can be made at anytime until April 30th.

If you would like to make a contribution to Project Rent, please make your check payable to OSLC-WELCA and mail or drop it off at the Church drop box. Please mark the envelope for WELCA--Project Rent. Should you have any questions or would like further information, please contact Marie Lybrand or Beverly Nivens.

GOD'S HELPING HANDS

God's Helping Hands current needs are for dried and canned milk. Please place donations in the provided box in the Cameron Hallway.

RAZBERRIES

Gail Marcum will be hosting the Razberries on April 17th. Plans are to gather at an outside restaurant. More details to follow later.

HOSPITALITY TEAMS UPDATE

The Lydia Circle is responsible for the Hospitality Teams for 2021. After much discussion of our previous guidelines and the current Covid-19 pandemic crisis, we feel it is best to offer Gift Cards to a restaurant for our Church families at this time. This is such an uncertain time for all of us, and each family may have different needs. Ann Satterwhite and Marie Lybrand are the Co-Coordinator to be contacted in the event of a hospitalization or death. We are currently in unprecedented times, but we have God's guidance and a caring congregation so we can get through this. Please contact Ann or Marie for any questions/concerns/help.

But given the nature of online church, some things will have to change. And change forever. For example, I recently got an email from a church member wondering about announcements regarding individuals and their personal health issues. It has always been a sticky wicket. Some people consider some of these things personal and would not want a public announcement about an upcoming or recent surgery made in the chancel, much less broadcast on Facebook or YouTube. The only solution I can think is that I will simply have stop making any announcements regarding individuals of any kind. Creating a system where there are tiers of information among those that participate in the life of a church community whether online or in-person is something that seems like a bad idea.

What's that mean for you? It means that if you—as an individual--want to find something out about a fellow member's health, you will have to ask someone close to that person. It's perfectly fine to be concerned about sister's or brother's well being, but use the phone or have that discussion in the narthex.

That's only thing minor thing that will change. There will be thousands more that we cannot foresee. Some changes won't bother you in the slightest. Some you will become used to. Others will forever irritate you. What can I tell you? I don't know. COVID changed everything.

Peace in Christ,
Pastor Lance

COMMEMORATION PROFILES

Ruth Nicholson

The Lutheran Church, as part of its worship, celebrates the lives of notable Christians of the past. Our hymnal provides a calendar (pp. 15–17) for us to follow which recognizes these individuals on the anniversary of their deaths.

Benedict the African, confessor (1526-1589)

Born to African slave parents on the island of Sicily, Benedict was freed when he was still a young man. His patience and dignified manner in the face of racial taunts won the notice of a group of Franciscan hermits. They invited Benedict to join them, and he stayed with them until that group dispersed in 1564. Benedict then became a lay brother of the Franciscan priory at Palermo, where he worked as a cook. Even though he was illiterate, Benedict was revered for being a sympathetic confessor and counselor. He was eventually named superior of the priory, and he led it effectively. Canonized in 1807, Benedict is considered a patron saint of African Americans.

April 6

Lucas Cranach the Elder, artist (1472-1553)

A great painter of the German Renaissance, Lucas Cranach was called “The Elder” to distinguish him from his son Lucas, also an artist. Cranach the Elder probably learned engraving from his father. At about thirty years of age, he began painting portraits. In 1504 Cranach became court painter to Frederick III in Wittenberg, and he and Martin Luther became close friends there. Cranach painted portraits of Luther and other reformers, and some of his woodcuts were used to illustrate the first New Testament printed in German. Cranach’s work shows the influence of other artists of his time. As a result, parts of his creative output were mistaken for theirs until three or more centuries after his death.

Catherine of Siena, theologian (1346-1380)

From girlhood on, Catherine experienced visions of Christ. She spent three years in cloistered living and then emerged to travel and do good works, even attempting to resolve conflicts of church and state through mediation and much letter-writing to Italian dignitaries. Catherine never learned to write; she dictated her letters and treatises. She was admired by the powerful and the poor alike. The Catholic Church canonized Catherine of Siena in 1461. Because she was revered in northern Europe, her feast day stayed on Lutheran calendars after the Reformation.

The Lydia Circle has been meeting by Zoom and have been studying the "Book of God" by Walter Wangerin, Jr. It is the Bible written as a novel. Sallie Hutto has been our very knowledgeable leader and has done an excellent job in summarizing and leading our discussions. We finish the book for our April meeting.

Lydia is also working on condensing the Hospitality Guidelines to separate the difference in the Funeral Meals and Hospitalization/Illness Meals and Memorials.

We ask that you all continue to keep us in your thoughts and prayers in the coming weeks ahead as we navigate life without Linda. The church has been such a blessing to us and we are very grateful.
